SCHOOLHOUSE CHAIR & BARSTOOL

Rubberwood is taken from trees also called the rubber tree. These trees are cultivated for their natural latex sap, but they also yield a high quality wood with a tight grain. The older trees are cut down and new trees planted making them an ecologically sustainable timber. Rubberwood is considered a hardwood, is part of the maple family and is a light-colored wood. It is very durable and rarely cracks. It is hard to scratch with pens or pencils.
